The IPSF is a non profit organisation. Please be advised that currently we have no budget to pay for travel, accommodation, or judging fee. We are offering successful applicants the IPSF judging certification for free. This is the first of its kind and proof that you are a knowledgeable judge. In the future this certification may lead to paid judging work with the IPSF and other competitions. Every effort will be made to generate sponsorship to cover all or part of the judge's expenses however we cannot promise this. This is currently a non paid position within the IPSF. Thank you for completing this form. Please send to KT.Coates@polesports.org and we will be in touch by 1st April 2012.
